

cc A lonely, lonely website =>

1

* A website can have any name if it likes. Just to be like human, but not that "human".

The name of this website changes randomly. Its source would be a huge database of names (different languages included)

Hi!! You are the first human I've met!

I'm Eva, and you?

* The website doesn't want human to talk too much. It's only interested in very few info about the human. It wants to express itself as much as possible.

3

● Auto Play a music.

I want you to listen to this song.

I've just ~~wrote~~ written it, for you.

Searched for
the input name
in Google. get a music. and
play it.

* Shows
hospitality & willingness to make friends
with human

* Predicting / Calculating is too easy for the website. This game
isn't fun for it to play with humans...

I want you to play rock, paper, scissors with me

It would always win bc of the algorithm & the
fast speed of its computation.

You can choose between the 3
icons in 3 s.

the final choice
determined at
the end of the count down.

The "choice" of the website.

ALWAYS WIN!

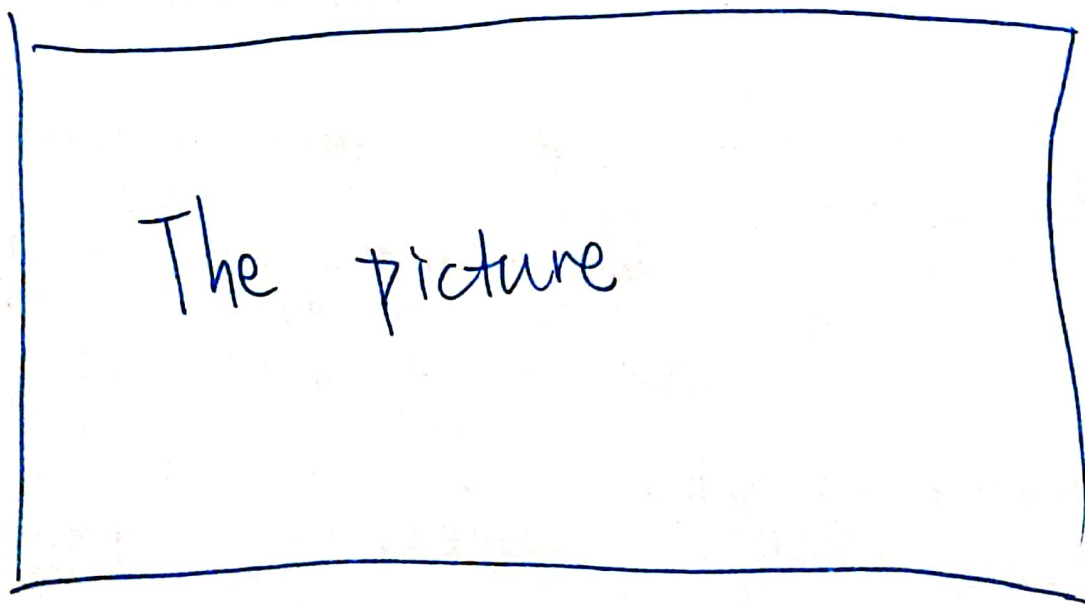

I want you to admire this picture with me.

What do you feel? I can't feel anything bc it's purely a combination of pixels. What is the difference between different combinations of pixels?

* A question that troubles the website for a long time.

This would be as big as possible.

The source to be decided.

*

Notes :

page 3, 4, 5 are all "I want you to" modes.

~~They~~ The sequence of them would be random.
& duration

This is a simulation of the website's "free will" to "do sth".

More modes to be added, hopefully.
